If you decline to undertake this work, and/or decline to undertake it within the timeframe stated, a “Not Yet Competent” will be recorded on your record and, you will be asked to re-enrol in the subject again.

Applying for recognition of learning already held

Nature Care College recognises that you may come to us with existing knowledge and skills learned at work; in completion of another course; through professional experience and/or life experience which may be relevant to the qualification you’re studying.

If you would like to apply for “credit” (i.e. an exemption from a particular subject) on the basis of your existing skills/knowledge, please be in contact with our Student Learning Services team who will be happy to talk you through the application process.

Plagiarism

All work that you submit must be your own. You will have signed a declaration at the start of each assessment that this will be the case.

Plagiarism is taking someone else’s work and/or ideas and passing them off as your own. It is a form of cheating and is taken seriously by Nature Care College. To help you understand, the following are examples that constitute plagiarism:

- Copying sections of text and not acknowledging where the information has come from
- Mashing together multiple ‘cut and paste’ sections, without properly referencing them, to form an assessment response
- Presenting work that was done as part of a group as your own
- Using information (pictures, text, designs, ideas etc.) and not citing the original author(s)
- Unintentionally failing to cite where information has come from
- Recycling your own work or part of your own work from a previously completed assessment.

Referencing

When it comes to properly acknowledging where information has come from there are a range of styles and referencing protocols which different trainers prefer.

To assist students in referencing their work appropriately, students should use the following website (created by the University of Melbourne) to assist in adhering to each trainer’s preferred referencing style: <http://library.unimelb.edu.au/recite>

Additional resources students may also find useful to refer to are:

Appeals

Whilst as a student, you are able to lodge an appeal if you disagree with a decision regarding an assessment outcome, you are encouraged to speak with your assessor in the first instance. If you are not satisfied with the outcome of that discussion, you may request a formal review of the assessment decision. Contact Student Learning Services for details.

Where to Get Help

Talk to your trainer and/or assessor for help in understanding how to complete your assessments. They are happy to support you and can be contacted through our online Learning Platform Moodle.

Student Conduct

Just as Nature Care staff abide by a Code of Conduct, students also have obligations they are expected to meet. It is expected that you will participate with commitment in your studies, submit assessments (if your subject has assessments) on time, and behave in a manner that does not contravene workplace health and safety or the principle of respect for others.

Nature Care College views student misconduct seriously. We expect that our students will behave in an honest, respectful manner appropriate for a learning environment. Consequences of student misconduct vary up to and including expulsion from the course.

Examples of student misconduct include, but are not limited to:

- Academic misconduct including plagiarism and cheating
- Harassment, bullying and/or discrimination
- Falsifying information
- Any behaviour or act that is against the law
- Any behaviour that endangers the health, safety and wellbeing of others
- Insulting or abusing others
- Disruptive behaviour
- Acting non-professionally
- Attending classes while intoxicated (refer also: Smoking, Drugs and Alcohol)
- Intentionally damaging equipment and/or materials belonging to Nature Care

Consequences for misconduct will depend on the severity and frequency of the breach and include, but are not limited to:

- Formal reprimand (warning)
- Suspension from the course
- Student to reimburse the costs incurred by any damage caused
- Cancellation of enrolment without refund and/or credit
- Matter referred to the police

Academic misconduct

Plagiarism and cheating are serious offences. Students engaging in this behaviour will face disciplinary action.
