Traditional natural remedies can restore vitality, emotional balance and help to avoid illness for all of life's stages. With this in mind, the Nature Care College Scholarship Award provides you with the educational opportunity to learn how to reconnect with the natural path to good health, and inspire others on how to do so in a rewarding career.

About the Course - Traditional Wisdom – contemporary holistic learning

The Advanced Diploma of Integrative Natural Health is geared towards those wishing to practice as a Naturopath. Naturopaths look at an individual's health status through investigations of the body systems, diet and lifestyle. A Naturopath looks at addressing any areas of health that may be out of balance or causing disharmony.

You will learn the properties of different foods not only in terms of the energy they provide, but also with regard to their therapeutic properties and effects, a 'food as medicine' approach. As a Naturopath in training, you will learn how to prescribe herbal formulations, nutritional supplements and how to make recommendations for lifestyle and dietary modification and stress management techniques.

Course Duration: 3 years

Course Commences: March – Annual intake

Course Delivery Mode: On campus, distance learning or combination of both

Working as a Naturopath is a fantastic choice for those who want to work in a rewarding field that is dedicated to the personalised care of their clients and is aimed at restoring and maintaining the mind/body to its ideal state. As a Naturopath, you enjoy a greater work-life balance while earning the loyalty and gratitude of your clients. - "Love your work love your life"
